WILSON PLEASED WITH HIS VISIT

Returned to Paris To-day After Brief Tour of Belgium

EXPRESSED INTEREST IN PLACES VISITED

There Was No Formal Reception When the President Returned to Paris

Paris, June 30 (By the Associated Press).-President Wilson and his party arrived here this morning at 9 o'clock after a two-day trip to Brussels and the war zone in Belgium. There was no formal reception and Mr. Wilson drove immediately to the Paris "White House." The president had a good night's rest and said he was not tired. He expressed his enjoyment and interest in the trip be had taken.

At 11 o'clock the president went to the Hotel De Crillon and held a conference with the entire personnel of the American delegation to the peace conference, including Col. E. M. House, who returned last evening from his visit to England.

The effect upon the president's plans of the cabinet resignation in Germany and the further developments anticipated is uncertain. A German request for an extension of time to act on the treaty is looked for and it is understood that the president told the delegation to-day that he had fixed no date for his departure

AMERICANS AT DISADVANTAGE. Superior Training, Get Skilled Jobs

Our Men Cannot Fill. America, according to information colported that Garcia buried much of his lected by Charles T. Clayton, director of the United States training service, dejamillo, Michoacan, and the people of partment of labor. Work in building decoration requiring the highest grade of artistic ability and experience almost always, Mr. Clayton points out, has to be done by foreign-trained workmen who really know the finer points of the decorative trades and who are paid from $12 to $15 a day for that knowledge. Americans, thoroughly competent for ordinary work, get $5 a day for their serv-

> Mr. Clayton also cites two recent experiences as showing the handicaps of American workmen through lack of training. In one employment office reently there were at the same time 1,000 jobs open and 700 applicants for jobs. Only 100 of the applicants, however, were able to qualify for the jobs that were available.

> In an Illinois factory, also, where labor was needed urgently, there were in one day 600 applicants for work, but only three could be hired. Mr. Clayton found that by instituting industrial training in this same factory unskilled workers could within a few weeks beome competent operatives.

In the lower bracket Miss Marion Zinderstein of Boston met Miss Molla Bjurstedt of New York, titleholder, while in the upper half Mrs. George Wightman of Boston faced Mrs. Gilbert Harvey of Philadelphia.

Piano Making Taught in Government Pamphlet.

Washington, D. C., June 20 .- In line with its plan to suggest methods and give expert advice to industry in regard to apprenticeship and training of workers, the United States training service of the department of labor is about to issue a pamphlet on training methods in the piano industry.

The refinement of this industry necessitates a somewhat longer period of learning than some other lines of work, but by following a definite system of upgrading present employes and training new workers, in places of the old meth-ods, it is believed that the quality of output will be greatly improved.

Investigation in representative factor ies of each general class-high grade, medium and commercial has enabled the training service to incorporate all the best theory and practice found, and to work out a thorough training guide to help the instructors in this industry im part their knowledge in the most order ly and effective way possible.

Manufacturers in the piano industry, like those in other industries, are anticipating keen foreign competition in the next few years; they are confident of holding the leadership and setting new standards of value with the increased skill and capacity given workers by apprenticeship and training of the right sort. It is predicted that this latest publication of the training service will sort. It is predicted that this latest publication of the training service will be regarded as a valuable and funda.
